Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

A Sabbath Thought

The touch of Jesus brings life. He strengthens what is frail or fractured; he revives what is moribund or mediocre. That power is available to us who gather to worship this Lord of life.

About Today's Bible Readings:

WISDOM 1:13-15; 2:23-24

Our ancestors in the faith came to a conclusion about death: It is not God's doing. God is a God of life who will triumph over ultimate evil.

PSALM 30:2, 4, 5-6, 11, 12, 13

R. I will praise you, Lord, for you have rescued me.

2 CORINTHIANS 8:7, 9, 13-15

Paul writes to the Corinthians a 'begging letter', asking them to share with the needy from the abundance with which God has blessed them.

MARK 5:21-43

Jesus' power is at work to heal the living and raise the dead. Nothing escapes his desire to prevent the triumph of evil.

ENTRANCE RITE

V. Because God did not make death, nor does He rejoice in the destruction of the living.

R. For God formed man to be imperishable; the image of His own nature He made him.

V. Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit.

R. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen!

THE GOSPEL (MARK 5:21-43)

When Jesus had crossed again in the boat to the other side, a large crowd gathered around him, and he stayed close to the sea. One of the synagogue officials, named Jairus, came forward. Seeing him he fell at his feet and pleaded earnestly with him, saying, "My daughter is at the point of death. Please, come lay your hands on her that she may get well and live." He went off with him, and a large crowd followed him and pressed upon him.

There was a woman afflicted with hemorrhages for twelve years. She had suffered greatly at the hands of many doctors and had spent all that she had. Yet she was not helped but only grew worse. She had heard about Jesus and came up behind him in the crowd and touched his cloak. She said, "If I but touch his clothes, I shall be cured." Immediately her flow of blood dried up. She felt in her body that she was healed of her affliction. Jesus, aware at once that power had gone out from him, turned around in the crowd and asked, "Who has touched my clothes?" But his disciples said to Jesus, "You see how the crowd is pressing upon you, and yet you ask, 'Who touched me?'" And he looked around to see who had done it. The woman, realizing what had happened to her, approached in fear and trembling. She fell down before Jesus and told him the whole truth. He said to her, "Daughter, your faith has saved you. Go in peace and be cured of your affliction."

While he was still speaking, people from the synagogue official's house arrived and said, "Your daughter has died; why trouble the teacher any longer?" Disregarding the message that was reported, Jesus said to the synagogue official, "Do not be afraid; just have faith." He did not allow anyone to accompany him inside except Peter, James, and John, the brother of James. When they arrived at the house of the synagogue official, he caught sight of a commotion, people weeping and wailing loudly. So he went in and said to them, "Why this commotion and weeping? The child is not dead but asleep." And they ridiculed him. Then he put them all out.

He took along the child's father and mother and those who were with him and entered the room where the child was. He took the child by the hand and said to her, "Talitha koum," which means, "Little girl, I say to you, arise!" The girl, a child of twelve, arose immediately and walked around. At that they were utterly astounded. He gave strict orders that no one should know this and said that she should be given something to eat. This is the Gospel of the Lord

It was great to see everyone who joined us last week at our Father's Day Breakfast. Our fathers have all done so much for us, it was good to take a moment out of our busy lives to honor them and to say thank you. It was also fitting and proper to remember those of our fathers who are no longer with us in this earthly life.
